Workshop

Timeless and Dynamic Chinese Opera Music

Chinese opera music, with its long history, has developed a unique and comprehensive aesthetic system, accumulated sophisticated techniques, achieved remarkable accomplishments, and established a profound tradition. Deeply cherished by the Chinese people, opera music was once the most important form of entertainment for the public. Today, as national awareness and measures for the protection of traditional culture continue to deepen and gain social consensus, opera music is witnessing the emergence of new works, experiencing significant development, and becoming increasingly integrated into China's musical life. Looking ahead, it aspires to step onto the world stage, bringing its unique artistic aesthetics to global audiences.
